PROCEDURE AVERAGE TIME: VARIES WITH APPLICATION AND NUMBER OF LIGHTS ADDED

STEP 1 Determine where you would like to add Spider Lights. To help determine placement, you may wish to temporarily use small pieces of masking tape as placement markers. (Do not place Spider lights on, or very near hot surfaces like engine components or exhaust systems.) Take into consideration the range of possible engine movement on rubber mounted models.

STEP 2 Thoroughly clean the mounting surface with the included alcohol pads. Allow the surface to completely dry.

STEP 3 Two types of connectors are included; double male connectors are used to join two Spider lights together without an additional wire extension harness in between. This is used when one wishes to place two lights close together. The double female connectors are used to join two extension harnesses or Y-connectors in any combination.

STEP 4 Assemble and route the wires in a combination that permits placement of the lights to your liking. Again, keep in mind hot parts and engine movement.

STEP 5 Remove the backings from the adhesive pads and affix the lights to the clean mounting surface. Apply firm pressure for a few seconds to assure a good bond.

STEP 6 Using the supplied cable ties, secure all wiring neatly out of harms way.
